

Interested in Domestic Violence and Health Care?

Want to connect with like-minded professional health students and faculty from across the country?

Join an email listserv specifically for health professional students and faculty interested in violence prevention and education. The list is coordinated by the Family Violence Prevention Fund, a non-profit organization committed to addressing violence domestically and internationally.

Family Violence Prevention Fund

Stop Domestic Violence Now

Monthly mailings highlight student-led projects, funding sources, and upcoming conferences.

Gain access to expert advice and free DV awareness publications and handouts to prepare for Health Cares About Domestic Violence Day on the second Wednesday of October 2006 (see www.endabuse.org/hcadvd).

Communicate

TO JOIN: Visit www.endabuse.org/health/listserv
Listserv is moderated by FVPF Graduate Student Intern, Anita Nageswaran
(1st year Med Student, UCSF)